Cakes as small as this are new for us. But we've learnt quickly and the cakes we've baked are as delicious as they are pretty. Happily, they owe a lot to their bigger cousins that we've been baking for over 25 years.

One important thing. We've used the same trusted recipes and stuck to the same rules that we live by when baking our larger cakes. We use:

No artificial colours in our icings or decorations.

No hydrogenated fats.

Only ingredients that you might find in your own kitchen.

In short, no funny stuff. And the cakes are as handmade as everything that we make.
